Steel and Labor Peace Bought at $2½ Billions

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The steel labor peace—bought for the next 2½ years at a billion-dollar price—loosed today a flood of political conjecture and stirred new misgivings over inflation.

The stock of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell soared as a possible Republican ticket in the November election.

Suddenly illuminated by the political spotlight, Mitchell told questioners "I don't know and I don't care" whether the wage pact he announced Monday enhanced his chance of becoming the GOP's vice presidential nominee.

The stock market spurted and officials issued bolder forecasts of 1960 prosperity as the settlement, engineered secretly by the Nixon-Mitchell team, erased fears of another economy-crising strike by the 500,000 United Steelworkers.

Steel industry leaders forecast no "immediate" price boosts to crank up the wage-price spiral. But Chairman Roger M. Blough of U. S. Steel Corp., who put the billion-dollar cost tag on the agreement, said it "could hardly be regarded as noninflationary."

There were no such misgivings in the union camp. USM President David J. McDonald told cheering steelworkers in Buffalo, N. Y., Monday night they could know that "victory is theirs."

A band played "Happy Days Are Here Again" as McDonald strode into a rally of 5,000 unionists to inform them the contract is a 40 per cent better wage-and-benefit package than the companies' last offer.

Formal disclosure of the precise contract terms waited on some formalities—ratification by individual companies and by the union's wage policy board.

Secretary Mitchell, tiredly describing the pact as the "most feasible and practical solution that is possible at this time," said there was no question whatsoever that the approvals would be given.

Unofficially it was learned the new, 30-month contract package amounts to about 40 cents an hour with fringe benefits effective at once and 7-cent hourly wage boosts taking effect in late 1960 and late 1961.

Just to Keep the Record Straight

Arkansas Gazette inaugurated a new financial page this morning with a separate page of text and pictures explaining the marvels of Teletypesetter—the system by which news is converted into telegraphic tape in New York, transmitted to Little Rock, and then turned into type on a typesetting machine automatically.

The Gazette is just a little bit late—exactly 18 years—in "discovering" Teletypesetter, as Hope Star readers know. On June 10, 1942, Hope Star, Magellan Banner-News, El Dorado News-Times and Camden News opened from the Teletypesetter-equipped Hot Springs News Era the first multi-city Teletypesetter newspaper circuit in the United States. Today this expanded circuit also serves Arkansas Gazette & News and other papers in South Arkansas—a continuous operation for 18 years.

Virtually the same explanatory page showing detailed operation of the tape on an automatic typesetting machine that Arkansas Gazette ran this morning was published by Hope Star and other papers on the wire in 1942. I know, because I made the pictures showing my late partner, C. E. Palmer, and Paul Marsand, the Swiss-born Teletypesetter installer, formally opening the wire at Hot Springs June 19, 1942.

Congressional Democrats Set to Pounce on Steel Increase as a Nixon-Approved Deal

New Newspaper at Calico Rock

CALICO ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A new weekly newspaper begins publication this week in Calico Rock. It will be called the Calico Rock News and will be printed in the Stone County Leader's plant at Mountain View. Edward Tudor, editor of the Stone County Leader, will be the managing editor of the newspaper which will be Calico Rock's second weekly.

The other weekly is the Progress which is published by Eugene Lockwood.

Rights Backers Claim Votes to Defeat South

WASHINGTON (AP)—Backers of civil rights legislation today claimed enough strength "if everybody stays hitched" to break a Southern-held roadblock and force an early House vote.

The House floor leader of the civil rights forces, Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) of the Judiciary Committee, made this estimate in a telephone interview from New York.

Some top Democrats, returning to Washington for the opening of the session Wednesday, talked of a strategy shift to let the explosive issue come to the blow-off stage first in the House.

Senate debate has been informally set for about Feb. 15. Last year the House Judiciary Committee, after a bitter three-way fight among Northern and Southern Democrats and Republicans, produced a bill watered down from its original terms but still extending civil rights legislation into the emotion-packed arena of school desegregation.

The bill would make it a federal crime to interfere by violence or threats with court desegregation orders. It also would forbid registrars to destroy voting records before federal officials could examine them. Another provision would strike at bombings.

The legislation promptly ran into delaying tactics in the Southern-led House Rules Committee which still has control of it.

Celler said today he put on an extensive telephone, telegram and letter drive during the recess and has the promise of about 80 additional signatures.

"If all the promises are kept, we'll have more than enough signatures," he said.

Congress passed only stopgap civil rights legislation last year—an extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission.

Beebe Pair Charged With Robberies

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Silas G. Varner and his wife, Nina, of Beebe, White County, have been booked by police on six robbery charges for holdups involving about $2,500.

Varner, 35, told police and newsmen Saturday about four drug store robberies.

Yesterday he was picked out a police lineup by two other robbery victims.

Police said he then admitted the additional holdups also.

The 34-year-old Mrs. Varner was booked as an alleged accomplice.

Selective Service Local Board announces that the following men

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democrats poised today to pounce on any steel price increase as a Nixon-approved contribution to inflation.

The discordant note of a possible price hike chilled some of the fanfare of jubilant announcements Monday that the steel dispute had been settled on terms proposed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Mitchell said he sees no need for an immediate steel price rise. Similarly, Chairman Roger Blough of U. S. Steel Corp. and Joseph L. Block of Inland Steel said they plan no general price increase in the immediate future. But Blough said competitive and other factors might compel a change later.

With this possibility in mind, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) served notice the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee he heads will keep a sharp eye on any price rises. The group previously has investigated steel pricing practices.

Steel magazine said price increases are inevitable. It estimated the boost in steel-making costs at $18 a ton over the life of the new contract. It predicted increases will be made on a selective basis, with the industry avoiding across the board boosts.

Blough himself estimated the new contract will cost the industry "well over one billion dollars."

Because Nixon and Mitchell made the proposals finally accepted by the steel companies and the unions, Democrats are certain to try to tag the vice president and the cabinet member with the cost of any resulting rises in the cost of living index.

Nixon has counted on his chairmanship of the Eisenhower Cabinet Committee for Price Stability and Economic Growth as a post from which he could contend that he was taking effective steps to halt rising living costs.

Other Democrats contended the administration should have acted as it did much earlier.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), an announced candidate for his party's presidential nomination, said that "had the President seen fit to use more vigorously the powers of his office at an early date thousands of steelworkers and their families would probably not have lost millions of dollars in wages through the protracted strike."

Florida Brothers Ask More Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Andrew and George Florida, wealthy Osceola businessmen, say they are not getting enough money to live on under a court-appointed receivership.

The brothers yesterday asked U. S. District Judge J. Smith Henley for relief. Henley recently appointed Beverly Lambert Jr. of West Memphis, as receiver for all Florida properties in connection with an $11 million dollar income tax suit pending against them.

The government contends the Floridas owe that amount in back taxes, penalties and interest.

Andrew Florida asked that Lambert be required to give him a living allowance or that he be permitted to open a new business to earn household expenses.

George Florida asked permission to go to work for another brother, Thomas J. Florida of Osceola, with his salary being kept out of the receivership.

Henley took the request under advisement.

Finch Murder Trial Goes to Actual Scene

By DIAL TORGERSO

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Finch murder trial shifts today to the scene of suburban violence that brought it about.

The jury gets a look at the spot where Barbara Jean Finch, 36, died last July 18, her skull fractured twice and a bullet in her back.

Her husband, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, and his mistress, suburban-janed Carole Tregoff, are accused of conspiracy and murder.

The prosecution charges they plotted Mrs. Finch's death because she stood in the way of their marriage—and was demanding a big share of community property she estimated at $750,000.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Fred N. Whicher told the jury in his opening statement that Finch and Miss Tregoff went to his estranged wife's home with a device which would kill, and leave the cause undetected: a 50cc hypodermic syringe.

"The 50cc hypodermic syringe is adaptable to produce death by an air embolism," Whicher stated, explaining that an injection of such a quantity of air into the bloodstream "could bring about death and not be demonstrable as to cause by an autopsy."

Mrs. Finch's death, however, was a violent, bloody one. The needle and syringe, unused, were found in an attache case near the murder home in West Covina.

Whicher charged Monday that the murder was the result of a year-long illicit affair between Dr. Finch, a handsome, 41-year-old tennis player, and the 23-year-old ex-model who was once his receptionist.

Whicher said the doctor and Miss Tregoff had shared three different apartments—including one in Las Vegas, Nev., where the doctor was arrested July 19.

The pistol which killed Mrs. Finch was never found.

Third Phase Soon on Table Rock Lake

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The third operational phase for Table Rock Lake on White River in northern Arkansas and southern Missouri will be reached March 1, U. S. Army Engineers here said today.

The lake has been in operation for flood control and limited hydroelectric power production for several months.

On and after March 1 all commercial operations on government-owned land on water will be conducted under lease or license. Operators who have been renting boats without lease or license since the lake started filling will be required to cease operation and remove their facilities.

The lake is expected to be about elevation 500 by March 1. Elevation of the lake today was 489.6.

Mayor Takes Oath, Streets Are Renamed

Mayor Sam Andrews and Assistant Mayor George Robinson took oaths of office last night at a regular meeting of the City Board of Directors.

Final acceptance of an advance planning offer from the Housing and Home Finance Agency was made.

The Planning Commission submitted a list of recommended changes in street names and the Directors gave approval to the following changes:

Arthur Street to 5th; Dewey Street to Walker; Hamilton to Johnson; Holcomb to Beech; Little Washington to Washington; Monroe to 7th; Oxford to 8th; Short to Compress Street; Taft to Spruce; Tennessee to Rosston Road; 6th Street north to Avenue G; 7th Street north to Avenue H; 8th Street north to Greenwood; 9th Street north to Compress St.; 10th north to Roschill Street.

Additional Street names added to the City map included: Bryant, Candy, California, Compress, Center, Pinerest, Rainbow, Rocky Mount Road, Roselle, White Hall, Hannu, Hempstead, Hilltop Drive, Hammond and McKinley.

A budget report for the month of December was studied by the group as well as specifications on a new fire truck on which the city will receive bids Jan. 15.

Although a public hearing on issuance of Water and Electric Revenue bonds was called for the meeting nobody turned up at the meeting in protest.

G. Pat Casey, 76, Retired Attorney, Dies on Monday

George Patrick Casey, aged 76, a retired attorney, died at his home here Monday. He had lived here all his life. He was a graduate of Cumberland University of Tennessee of Lebanon, the class of 1912 and had practiced law in Hope since. He was a member of the Episcopal Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Earline Casey. Services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Oakcrest Funeral Service Chapel by Dr. L. T. Lawrence. Burial will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Minor Damage in Auto Accident

At Third and Main yesterday, autos driven by Oscar Lafferty and Jimmy Halsey collided with fender damage to the Lafferty vehicle, City Police said. Nobody was injured. The Halsey car was not damaged.

Snow Up to Five Inches Deep Covers Arkansas, Causes Accidents Here

Wrecks Leave at Least Eight Persons Injured

A series of auto accidents in heavy snow in this area today left eight persons injured, with two on the critical list.

Perhaps the most serious accident occurred shortly before noon today on Highway 87 about four miles west in an apparent head-on collision. A Texas car driven by a Negro, William F. Dandeker of Pecan Gap and another occupied by three Homer, La. persons were involved.

Critically injured were Poindexter who sustained a broken arm, cuts about the face and head. A companion, Ethel Logan of Paris, Texas, suffered cuts and bruises but was not considered seriously hurt. They were taken to a local hospital by an Oakcrest ambulance.

Also on the critical list is Samuel H. Drew of Homer, La. He suffered a severe concussion and other injuries. Less critically injured was a companion in the Louisiana car, Jess Herbert, who suffered the loss of several teeth and cuts and bruises. Mrs. Virginia Carpenter, also of Homer, riding with them, was bruised but not considered seriously hurt.

They were brought to a local hospital by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance.

State Policemen Ward and Pankey had not completed the investigation but reported both vehicles completely demolished.

A Calhoun Packing Co. truck of Palestine, Texas and an auto occupied by two Negroes, collided on Highway 87 about four miles west of Hope about 10:30 a. m.

The driver of the truck was not injured. James Griffin, Negro, appeared to be the most seriously injured. He suffered a severe blow on the head and a scalp laceration. The other Negro, James C. Briggs, sustained cuts and bruises. Both were brought to Hope by an Oakcrest ambulance.

At Fulton this morning an Okay Cement truck driven by Charles William Gilbert, in trying to avoid hitting an auto driven by Johnny Palmore, Fulton Negro, overturned causing considerable property damage, according to Officers Pankey and Ward. The incident occurred right in Fulton.

Hope Firms Are Incorporated

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Articles of incorporation for two new firms at Hope have been filed in the secretary of state's office.

The companies are Hope Wire Products, Inc., and Ham Wood Products, Inc.

Hope Wire was incorporated by eight Holland, Mich., residents. Incorporators for Ham Wood are five Hope residents.

Arkla to Open a New Meter Plant

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. expects to open its new meter plant here with 200 employees.

Edward R. Gilmore, company engineer, said plans call for seven or eight different type of meters to be produced in the plant within three years.

The plant will be used at first as an assembly operation and Gilmore has not announced when actual production of meters will begin.

He did say at least 1,000 gas meters should be produced daily with the plant's completion.

30 Persons Die in Italian Train Wreck

MONZA, Italy (AP)—A jammed 10-car commuter train crashed around a sharp curve today and the locomotive and five cars hurtled from the rails into a tangle of wreckage. Between 20 and 30 persons were killed and an estimated 100 were injured.

The accident occurred in dense fog about two miles north of the station in this automobile capital of Italy. Monza is about 10 miles northeast of Milan.

There were about 1,000 passengers on the train, most of them factory or office workers on their way to jobs or students.

The train was traveling about 45 miles an hour. The track was under repair and officials believed the engineer did not see a stalled car ahead until it was too late. The engineer was killed and his assistant gravely injured.

Health Center Committee Meets Tuesday

A special building committee named by Judge U. G. Garrett for construction of a County Health Center will meet Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the Courthouse.

The group includes Bill Routon, Ralph Lehman, Dr. Forney Holt, Mrs. Kathryn Lou Franks and Mrs. W. M. Duckett. At Tuesday night's meet they will elect officers and go over procedures.

Present plan calls for a $60,000 structure which will house the Hempstead Health Department. It will be located just behind the National Guard Armory on the Courthouse Square.

The U. S. Government will put up two-thirds of the money for such a project providing the county will come through with the other third.

More of Same Is Predicted Through Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snowfall, up to five inches in some areas, blanketed north and central Arkansas today. Snow fell throughout the state and icy roads made driving hazardous.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock forecast more snow in most sections of the state this afternoon and tonight.

A report from Marshall in Scarey County said the snow was between four and five inches deep in that area.

Weathermen measured four inches at Little Rock.

State Police called on drivers to restrict travel on the slick highways to essential business. No roads were closed but some were described as extremely hazardous.

Occasional rain or snow was the outlook for extreme south Arkansas and snow in all other portions of the state through tonight. More snow is predicted for the south-east section tomorrow.

Today's high was expected to stay in the 30s throughout the state with lows tonight varying from 20 in the north to 30 in the south. Temperatures are due to remain in the 30s tomorrow.

All schools at Harrison were closed at noon today. The Western Grove District in Newton County also shut schools after the noon recess. There was no word from officials on when they would reopen.

Schools at Bauxite let out at noon. It was expected they might reopen tomorrow.

Some schools in the Springfield area also were closed.

A Highway Department spokesman said many inquiries were received about travel in mountainous northwest Arkansas. The department said conditions on roads and bridges in that section were hazardous but there were no immediate plans to shut down travel.

The snowfall was estimated at about two inches in the Little Rock-South Little Rock area; 100s from east Arkansas; said Jonesboro, Newport and other cities had an estimated inch of snow.

At Pine Bluff, oldtimers said the snow reached an estimated depth of one inch that the flakes were "the biggest ever seen around here."

Yesterday's high reading ranged from 36 degrees at Walnut Ridge to 39 at El Dorado and Pine Bluff.

One Injured in School Bus, Car Collision

Charles Key Jr. was slightly injured early this morning when the auto which he was driving crashed into the rear of a Queensey School bus on the Columbus road, near the Highway 4 intersection. None of the students on the loaded bus were injured. State Policemen Pankey investigated.

The bus was driven by Charles Jones. The accident occurred during heavy snow. Key suffered a leg injury and was brought to a local hospital for treatment by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance.

The front end of Key's car was badly smashed. The bus had little damage.

Ground Broken for Booneville Plant

Ground was broken here yesterday for construction of a plant of the American Hard Rubber Co. to manufacture Ace bowling balls.

The company is a division of the Amerace Corp. of New York and the plant will adjoin the factory of Ace Comb Co., another Amerace subsidiary.

Production is expected to start in about six months.

Decision to build the new plant here followed a successful public campaign for financial support.

AWESOME PRANK — THIS AWESOME, BUT REALISTIC-LOOKING dummy being held up by policeman Pat Faykes, created quite a stir in Houston, Texas, as it went bouncing along behind a car in an imitation of a man being dragged to death. SETTLED—THE 116-DAY STEEL DISPUTE has been settled after an all-night bargaining session between union and management negotiators and aided by Secretary of Labor James Mitchell. Mitchell, center, asked if a settlement might have been reached sooner if Vice President Richard

Nixon had entered the negotiations earlier, answered by pointing to the men most responsible for the settlement, R. Conrad Cooper, left, chief negotiator for the steel companies, and David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers. — NEA Telephoto

Hopeful Child Could Name Mother's Killer

LONDON (AP) — Detectives waited near the hospital bedside of 10-year-old Alan Carter today in the desperate hope he could tell them who bludgeoned his mother to death.

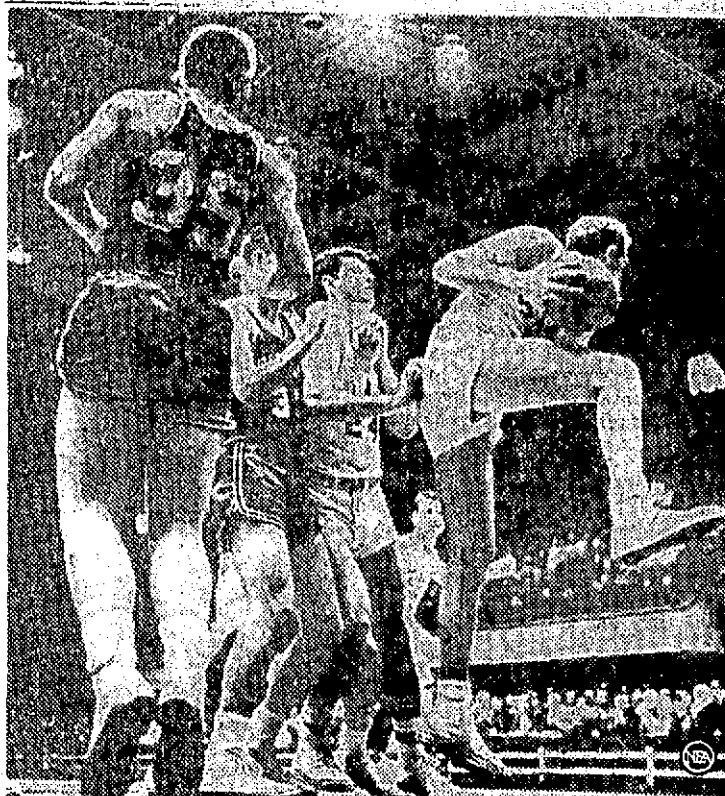

The child was in his mother's bedroom when she was murdered Saturday. Alan was left for dead with savage head injuries.

But doctors fear that even if Alan lives, his brain may be so badly damaged that he will never speak again.

The brutal slaying of Alan's mother, Ruby Carter, 33, in her cottage at Cowbridge, Wales, was the third such murder in Britain in little more than a week.

Boy Wouldn't Take Operator's Word

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — A 10-year-old boy asked a service station attendant Sunday whether he spilled gas would ignite if he threw a match into it. The attendant said it would. Out of curiosity the boy threw a match. A car was badly damaged, three pumps ruined and four firemen slightly hurt when fumes from the main gas tank exploded.

GRAB BAG—Bob DeStefano of North Carolina State looked like he had just sat on a hot stove as he headed for the other basket after taking a rebound in Raleigh. For the moment, that left Holy Cross' John Shea, 35, and others spectators.

President Has Purpose for Brazil Stop

By BEN F. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's choice of Brazil as a starting point for his February trip to South America may be an effort to dramatize his announced program for ever-improving relationship with Latin America.

Some observers said there had been reports recently that U.S.-Brazilian relations had cooled somewhat and that this may have disturbed government officials in view of violent anti-American speeches in the past few months in Cuba and Panama. There have been suggestions by some members of Congress that Washington's relations with Latin America generally leave much to be desired.

Although there has been no U.S. announcement, Brazil's President Juscelino Kubitschek announced officially Monday Eisenhower will visit there next month.

Argentina's foreign minister, Diogenes Taboada, said in Buenos Aires Sunday that Eisenhower would visit the Argentine capital Feb. 24 or 25.

There have been reports that the President plans also to visit Chile and Uruguay, and pressure for him to visit other countries in South America, already is reported.

An Eisenhower visit, some diplomats say, would be a powerful stimulus to closer relations between Washington and Latin America, especially if the trip should mark the beginning of an intensified program of cooperation between the United States and its neighbors to the south.

Anti-Semitism Arouses U. S. Officials

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Aroused officials in America and abroad set out today to assess and combat the sudden, worldwide outburst of anti-Semitism.

Political repercussions were felt in West Germany, where the campaign was begun by neo-Nazis on Christmas Eve, and in Britain, where anti-German feeling still remains strong from World War II. Sir Christopher Steel, British ambassador to Bonn came home from West Germany for special talks. British officials privately expressed concern at the international standing of West Germany's government, a partner in the North Atlantic Alliance.

The West Germans took their first court action, sentencing a man in Berlin to 10 months in jail for painting anti-Jewish signs on two doors and a shop window. He is Rolf Wolny, 23, an unemployed clerk.

Sixteen members of extremist organizations were being held in West Berlin after they staged an outdoor meeting Saturday and sang Nazi songs.

West Berlin took steps to ban two radical rightist youth groups although police said neither had been directly connected with anti-Semitic incidents. The two are the National Youth of Germany and the League of Nationalist Students.

In the United States, the national director of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith announced plans to go to West Germany next week. Benjamin R. Einstein of New York said he would seek a "full, complete" report and then present it to the B'nai B'rith International Council meeting Jan. 25-26 in Amsterdam.

Another American Jewish leader said to dismiss the smear campaign as strictly the work of "hooligans whose taste for violence has been excited by the incidents in Germany."

Rabbi Joachim Prinz, expelled from Germany by the Nazis, said in a statement issued at his home in Orange, N.J., that he suspects "the attacks are part of a coordinated effort to demonstrate that the international anti-Semitic movement still flourishes."

In West Germany, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told a Jewish leader he is revolted by the outbreak of anti-Semitism in his country. Hendrik van Dam, secretary general of the German Jewish Council, called on Adenauer after the appearance of the first swastikas and slogans in Bonn itself. Van Dam said Adenauer told him: "Efforts to find the wire-pullers responsible are now in progress. There are certain circles trying to compromise the federal government (of West Germany)."

The West German government has been mentioning "wire-pullers" for several days but has not named them.

A Foreign Office spokesman said: "We have not given a decided opinion on who the wire-pullers are. Maybe they are from the East (Communist), maybe not."

Murder Trials Are Slated at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The first degree murder trials of Houston Presley Buck and Homer Lee Booher have been scheduled for the March term of court by Circuit Judge William J. Kirby.

Buck, charged in the fatal beating of his infant daughter, will be tried March 9. Bucks' trial was postponed from today because one of his attorneys is ill.

Booher, accused in the fatal shooting of C. M. Whithead at North Little Rock last Nov. 3, will be tried March 21. Police said Whithead was shot after Booher found him with Mrs. Booher outside a cafe.

Coroner to Rule on W. Memphis Death

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Coroner Thomas H. McGough is expected to rule today on the cause of death of Lee Ellis Jr., 30, whose body was found New Year's Eve beneath the Memphis-Arkansas bridge.

McGough said his investigation, nearly complete, turned up no the largest number of donors of financial assistance to Arkansas' seven private colleges.

Participating schools are Arkansas College, The College of the Ozarks, Harding, Hendrix, John Brown University, Ouachita and Southern Baptist College.

evidence of foul play.

Ellis apparently jumped or fell from the bridge. The Newport Ark. man apparently died the same day he was released after an overnight examination in the psychiatric ward of a Memphis veteran's hospital.

The average distance driven in Arkansas by out-of-state passenger cars is 225 miles one-way, according to the Origin and Destination survey on the 18 most traveled highways of the state.

H. B. (Barky) Fuller Jr. Ordained as Minister

H. B. "Barky" Fuller Jr. was ordained a minister in the First Baptist Church on Sunday, Jan. 3 with Dr. S. A. Whitlow of Little Rock delivering the ordination sermon at First Baptist Church of Hope.

Besides Dr. and Mrs. Whitlow, others from out of town attending the services included Mrs. A. T. Massey, Jr. of Alice, Texas and 111 members of the Bethel Baptist Church of Whitehouse, Texas. Five of which are deacons in the Texas church where the newly ordained minister will serve.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fuller, entertained the visitors with coffee and cake served at their home following the church service.

Russells and Martindales Entertain in Martindale Home

A small informal gathering of friends enjoyed holiday fellowship on Dec. 30, when Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Russell and Dr. and Mrs. Jud Martindale entertained in the Martindale home.

Red and white were the colors used in all decorations of the home. Red Carnations and white stocks, with white candles created one point of interest, while white grapes, spruce boughs sprayed white and red Christmas tree balls were seen on the mantle.

There were two red Christmas trees and a silver one with red ornaments. Tasty dips, cookies, nuts and punch were served during the evening.

As the bouffant hairdo goes out, it's succeeded by the hair-style with height. Whether wrapped smoothly or curled, the new look in hairdos is tall. Shown here are some examples by Antoine of Paris. His beehive silhouette rises high (left) and is pulled out at the back of the head. The hair shows soft waves rather than obvious curls. Very sophisticated is this version (center) in which the hair is wrapped into smooth, polished bands next to the face and combed high at the back. Modification of the high hairdo (right) is this pretty version for shorter hair. Hair is curled high at the back and combed into a half-bag at front. Basis for all of these new hairstyles is a permanent which supplies the necessary fullness.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Went Home to Her Mother

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am a disgusted husband. I married a girl in August, 1935, and lived with her only three weeks. She left saying she was homesick. I convinced her she should give our marriage another chance. Again she left so I never asked her back. I am lucky if I see her at all or even hear from her. She is now 20 and I am 23 years old. She was an only child — I come from a big family.

Last year I went to her home town to see her. As usual her mother said, "My daughter is staying here." If I got work there, we'd have to live with her mother and I don't want that. Could I get my marriage annulled or would I have to go through the divorce courts? I can't go on like this. I am not in love with anyone else. People used to ask where my wife was. I always had to tell a lie and it made me mad. Now I tell the truth. — Disgusted

Dear Disgusted: Obviously your wife has never grown up. You and she might still have a chance at happiness together if you could break the spell. Make one last effort! How about your meeting her at a friend's house for a real talk — away from Mama? It's worth the try. If that fails, then seek a lawyer's advice.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Last summer I got very friendly with one of the most popular girls in my school. I liked her a lot. She asked me to call on her by friend and ask him if he still liked her. (He hadn't called her up for about two weeks). I did. Since then she's hardly spoken to me. I still like her and want to be friends again. How should I go about it? — Used

Dear Used: Your non-de-plume is aptly chosen. In the future let others pull their own chestnuts out of the fire. A friend who uses you is no friend at all.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are a young couple 30 years old, married ten years and have never danced with anyone but each other. This past summer we met three couples whom we saw again last Saturday. Before I could think of anything to say we were dancing and changing partners. This didn't get well with me. I wanted to write a "thank you" letter to our hostess telling her I had a nice time until the dancing due to the fact we had never changed partners. We are supposed to go to the other couple's house soon. I like these people. Do you think I should write and tell them I don't like changing partners or just go and try to cope with my feelings? — P. H.

Dear P. H.: Go, say nothing and have a good time. Where on earth did you get the idea that it was wrong to dance with anyone but your husband? If you persist in this Victorian attitude, your husband will eventually go dancing without you.

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper. (Released By The Bell Syndicate)

Reds Ask Why Sudden Decision

MOSCOW (AP) — The publication Soviet Russia today asked why the United States had made a decision freeing itself to resume nuclear weapon tests just when agreement on a summit meeting had finally been reached. The article by commentator Dadyant said the U. S. decision was more than strange and described it as a fly in the ointment. Dadyant blasted President Eisenhower's assertion that the Soviets were blocking agreement at the Geneva negotiations on a permanent ban on nuclear tests.

Pilot Killed in Rogers Crash

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — A plane belonging to the Deisy Manufacturing Co. of Rogers crashed here early today, killing the pilot, Leland Thomas Lord, about 42. Lord was personal pilot for Cass Lough, president of Daisy, which produces air rifles. The plane, a six-passenger Beechcraft, hit a high power line one mile north of the Rogers airport. Observers said Lord apparently was coming in for a landing.

The wreckage burned. Lord's body was recovered after the fire was extinguished. His watch had stopped at 12:10 a.m., the time of the crash.

Lord's home address was not available immediately.

75 County Workers Get Retirement

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Seventy-five former county employees were drawing retirement benefits from the state employees' retirement system as of Jan. 1. A 1959 law made county employees eligible in the system which previously had been for certain state employees only. The State Retirement Board said 102 former state employees were on the retirement rolls as of Jan. 1. Total benefits paid to 237 retired persons were $9,551. There are 6,304 state and 4,107 county employees on the active rolls.

Porks to Start 3 Sophs in SW Loop Opener

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Texas Christian's Horned Frogs open their Southwest Conference basketball season tonight in the annual Arkansas hills in which they begin their football campaign.

The outcome of the game will be different. The Arkansas Razorbacks beat the Frogs in football, 3-0, and it lined out to be the only conference loss of the year for TCU. The Frogs tied with Arkansas and Texas for the championship.

The Christians are the defending conference champions in basketball and they'll be out to start the new year on a winning note tonight.

Arkansas Coach Glen Rose will field three sophomores and two juniors against the Frogs. The Porks will be missing their top scorer, guard Pat Foster, who underwent an appendectomy last week in Houston during the Southwest Conference pre-season tournament.

Arkansas wound up third in the tournament behind Texas A&M, the winner, and Southern Methodist. SMU opens its league season tonight at Texas, the Aggies play host to Baylor, and Rice visits Texas Tech.

The Frogs starters tonight will be 6-6 Alan Morrison, 6-5 Jerry Carlson and 5-11 Skippy Coffman, all sophomores, and 6-3 Clyde Fitch and 6-0 Ronnie Garner, both juniors.

The Frogs probably will open with 6-3 Jerry Cobb, 6-5 Tommy Meacham, 6-2 Jerry Pope, 5-10 Bobby Tyler and 6-6 Don Williams. Rose said yesterday that Foster probably will be out for five weeks recuperating from his operation. Coffman is starting in his place. Arkansas has a .54 season record so far. TCU is 3-7.

Texans Name Broyles Coach of the Year

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Sports Writers Assn. has named University of Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles as its senior college coach of the year.

The writers accorded the honor to Broyles, a foreigner, for the showing his Arkansas Razorbacks made in tying for the Southwest Conference football championship and winning the Gator Bowl.

Texans considers the Southwest Conference a Texas league. Arkansas is the only out-of-state school in it.

Broyles will be honored later

Duffie D. Booth

"Buy your insurance from a man you know — and study what you buy — are two fundamentals which can save you both money and heartache." This advice comes from the Insurance Commissioner of a neighboring state.

In a newspaper interview, he mentioned that his department receives many complaints about agents who sell house and "illegally misrepresent the policies they are selling." Those agents are chiefly the kind who "work" first one city and then another.

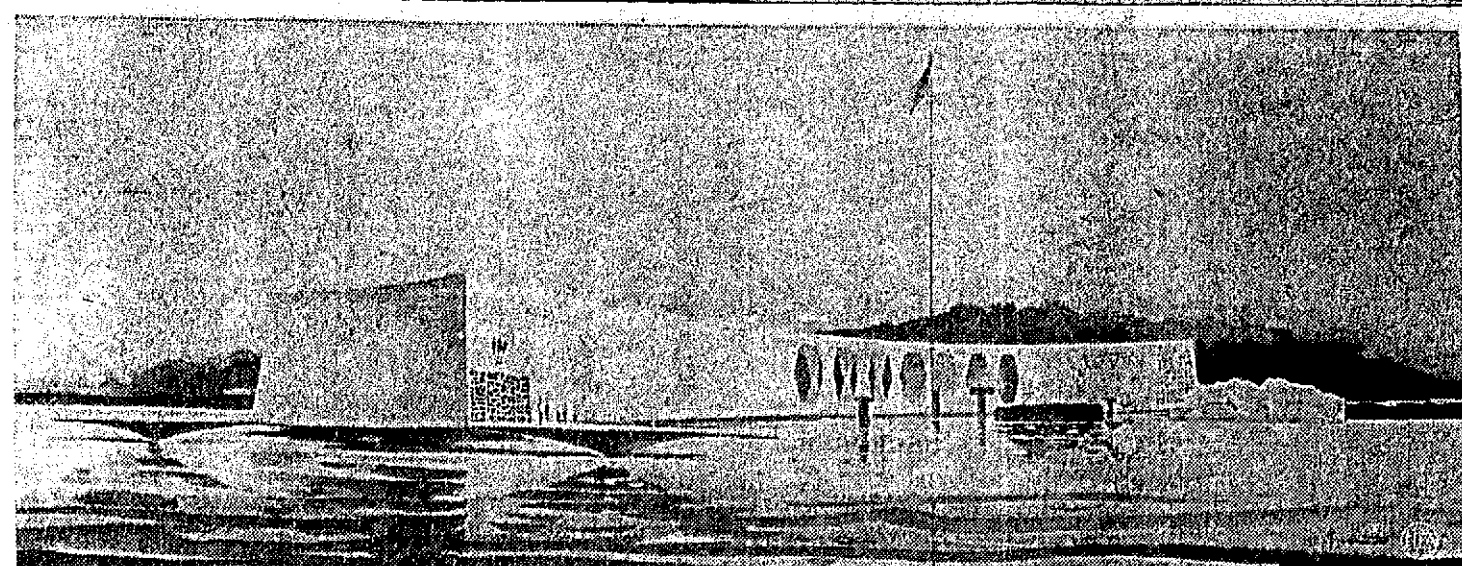

Then the Commissioner adds, "We have quite a problem with people who think they have bought more than their policy entitles them to."

As a different official explains: "Only best advice anyone seeking a policy on any type of insurance is to buy from the agent — one who lives in the area. He's not here today to sell, and gone tomorrow when you need help with a claim."

With that advice we heartily concur. No matter what type of insurance you want, pick an agent who lives right here in Hope. You'll find the coverage offered locally are excellent — the rates competitive — and the SERVICE immediately available and unexcelled.

California Bears Avenge Defeat by Southern Cal

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

California's Bears are off and winging again in college basketball today after needing only 48 hours to get solid revenge against the Southern California team that snapped their 25-game winning streak.

Beaten 65-57 Saturday night by the Trojans, the Bears came back with a decisive 60-45 victory at the same Los Angeles court Monday night and did it breezing despite the loss of 6-10 ace Darrell Inhoff for 13 minutes because of a cut mouth.

So gripping was the fouled Cal Bear-hug defense that Southern Cal, upped to 10th ranking nationally after its Saturday shaker, managed only six field goals in the field half and hit only 32 per cent of its shots.

Cal's victory came in the second game of a Los Angeles double-header which opened with UCLA's 55-54 squeaker over Washington. Stanford clipped in with a West Coast shocker, snapping twice-beaten Oregon State's nine-game win streak, 43-38.

Fifth-ranked Utah (1-1) opened its Skyline Conference campaign with a 78-62 victory over Montana sixth-ranked Ohio State (6-2), with soph Jerry Lucas scoring 30 points and grabbing 23 rebounds, routed ninth-ranked Illinois 27-73 in its Big Ten opener; and eighth-ranked Wake Forest (6-2) ran its winning streak to six with its fourth straight Atlantic Coast Conference victory, 77-62 over Clemson in other key games.

Sophomores dominated two other Big Ten games. Bill Canclatore, a 5-11 soph, had 27 points as Northwestern handed favorite Indiana its second straight league defeat, 41-57, while toppled Wisconsin 71-64 as 17 soph Don Nelson scored 22.

Kansas State, perking up after a horrendous start, opened its Big Eight schedule with a 69-37 romp over Colorado while Iowa State held off Nebraska 57-55 and Oklahoma State whipped Missouri 51-42 in other Big Eight games.

Wichita made it 2-0 in Missouri Valley Conference play warming up for next Thursday's North Texas State. Houston won its second MVC game in three tries, 68-42 over Tulsa.

Three records were set as Maryland topped touring Yale 103-80 this month at a sports achievement dinner.

Johansson Is Named Athlete of the Year

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ingemar Johansson, the modern day Viking who won the world heavyweight boxing championship from Floyd Patterson last June in a shocking upset, has been voted the "Athlete of the Year" for 1959 in the year-end Associated Press poll.

Johansson, a 27-year-old Swede won by a substantial margin over Johnny Unitas, who quarterbacked the Baltimore Colts to the National Football League championship for the second straight year. Johansson had 10 votes of the 88 votes from sports writers and sportscasters. Unitas had 1.

It was the second time in the history of the poll, which dates back to 1931, that a boxer had won it. Joe Louis won in 1935. Last year's winner was Herb Elliott, the Australian miler who had broken the four-minute barrier 10 times.

Billy Cannon, Louisiana State's All-America back, was the only other athlete to draw strong support. He polled votes for first place, far ahead of the Chicago Cubs' Ernie Banks who drew 12 votes.

Charlie Conerly, the New York Giants' quarterback, and Nellie Fox, the American League's most valuable player as the Chicago White Sox' second baseman, each behind Al Bunge's 42 points. Bunge's total was an individual tally mark as were Maryland's 13 points and the two-team total of 183 points.

Tulane and Mississippi took the early lead in Southeastern Conference play, both at 2-0. Tulane used Jack Ardon's 28 points for a 71-53 decision over Florida, and Mississippi, now 9-1 over-all, beat Auburn 64-36 as Jack Waters scored 28. LSU defeated Georgia 31-7 and Mississippi State outclassed Alabama 85-56 behind Jerry Graves' 31 points in other SEC games.

Judge to Rule on Airline Service Stops

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U. S. District Judge J. Smith Henley is expected to rule today on the Pine Bluff Airport Commission's request for a permanent injunction to prohibit Trans-Texas Airlines from cutting its daily stops at Pine Bluff from ten to seven.

Henley heard 3 1/2 hours of testimony and legal arguments on the had nine votes. Larry Sherry, the Los Angeles Dodgers' World Series hero drew eight votes.

Johansson will receive the Fragrant Order of Eagles-Frederick C. Miller Memorial Trophy at a dinner in Milwaukee shortly.

Johansson's dramatic third-round TKO victory was the most surprising to the boxing world since Max Baer knocked out Joe Louis in 1936. The handsome European champion was a 5 to 1 underdog against Patterson.

Trans-Texas attorneys contended that the federal court lacked jurisdiction to decide the issue. They said the airport commission should file a complaint with the Civil Aeronautics Board if it feels entitled to relief.

The airline proposes to take Pine Bluff off three flights — one from Little Rock to New Orleans, one from New Orleans to Little Rock and another from Houston to Memphis.

Joe G. Crawford of Houston, a Trans-Texas official, said the airline was required by the CAB only to make two round trips daily to Pine Bluff. He said the city still will have 3 1/2 round trips daily after the cut in service.

NOT WORRIED—Hans Conried, many-voiced entertainment figure, says he's not worried about whether he's known as an actor or as a personality. "I just want to stay alive," he says.

COB KING—He averages 157.33 bushels an acre and topped the prize. Lawrence Kullman, Warrensburg, Mo., emerged winner of the Johnson County contest held by the Missouri Farmers Assn. He planted MFA-118 variety on May 8. Stalk count was 17,000 per acre.

CELESTON—Not really worth a plugged nickel, this gold coin, called a "celeston," is designed to serve as currency for space-men. It was minted by the "Nation of Celestial Space," founded by James T. Mangan of Chicago, who has laid claim to all of outer space. Mangan's daughter Ruth displays the coin, which bears her likeness.

YOU'RE KIDDING—Cathy Bauby strikes a bucolic pose in Memphis, Tenn. Though actually a farmer's daughter who used to sell pigs, Cathy's running a Memphis model bureau.

THE HOSTAGE

BY CHARLES HENRY

BY CHARLES HENRY
CHAPTER XXXII

"Well," Carol said brightly, "I don't care about anything except that Davey's all right. This has been the worst and the best day of my life."

Mrs. Primus nodded. "It certainly has. Remember this morning when we said we didn't feel right about letting that man go off with the furniture? What would we have said if we'd known what else he was going off with?"

Carol grinned. "We'd have screamed. They'd have heard us all over the city."

"Bill!" Carol said suddenly. "I can't wait. I just can't! I've got to see him right now, right this minute, or I'm going to explode. Bill—oh, please—let's drive out to Westbury. We could be there to bring him home."

"But, look, we don't even know he'll be there."

"Of course he'll be there," Carol insisted. "The man at the moving company said so. And suppose they've already started back. We'd meet them on the road, wouldn't we? Oh, Bill—it's raining, and Davey's only got his sweater. We could take his coat to him. Bill—please!"

Bill looked across doubtfully at Mrs. Primus.

Mrs. Primus smiled and nodded. "I'll stay with the phone," she offered.

"Oh, Irma!" Carol said. "Oh I love you. I love everybody, but you more than most. Honestly, I'm going to stay anyway until I see Davey." Mrs. Primus said, "And I'm still counting on you staying at my place tonight. She held up a hand to ward off an objection. "There's plenty of room, so don't argue. I deserve some satisfaction out of this day, too."

When they were ready to leave, Mrs. Primus followed them to the door. "I'll explain to Mr. McCracken," she said. "He'll be so glad to hear."

"Oh, yes," Carol said, "please." "And," Mrs. Primus added with sudden asperity, "I may just tell that Miss Mabry, too. She was so anxious to scare everybody to death."

For a moment Carol's balance was marred by a slight frown. Then, evidently unable to think of anything but the impending reunion with Davey, she smiled again. "Do what you like," she said. "I just don't care!"

When they were gone, Mrs. Primus closed the door and returned inside. It had been an awful day. And it needn't have been at all except for that hateful woman.

And what it must have been like for Carol, with that woman telling her such a terrible lie! Just to think of it made Mrs. Primus' blood boil. If there wasn't a law for people like that—well, there certainly ought to be!

Her broad features became set. Summoning Miss Mabry's telephone number from the dim reaches of memory, she crossed to the phone, picked it up and dialed. When the receiver lifted at the other end of the line, she spoke without ceremony.

"Miss Mabry," she said, "this is Mrs. Primus upstairs. I'm calling from the Cleaves' apartment. Since you were so involved in Davey's disappearance today I thought I ought to tell you he's been found—and he's safe and alive."

Also—he wasn't down in the park at all today, like you said. He was in the moving van. I just wanted to tell you so you could read all about it in the morning paper." Detecting a sharp intake of breath at the other end of the line, she felt a certain thrill of satisfaction.

"And I hope you sleep well tonight. I just hope you do."

And with that, Mrs. Primus hung up. For a moment she sat perfectly still. It was worth it. Indeed it was. And she was quite ready to accept whatever consequences were to befall her for practicing the sin of revenge.

Straightening her skirt with a sure, practical yank, she prepared to go downstairs and tell Mr. McCracken.

It was 20 minutes later when she returned and let herself back into the apartment. She was only just closing the door when the phone rang. She hurried across and picked it up.

"Yes?" she inquired.

"This is the Police Department. We've just heard from the sheriff out at Westbury."

"Yes?" she repeated.

The voice resumed carefully.

Hope Abandoned for Fishermen

MANILA (AP) — Hope was abandoned today for 10 fishermen who disappeared in typhoon-churned Philippine waters New Year's Eve. Word of the seas disaster off the southern coast of Luzon Island was brought Sunday by the lone survivor of an ill-fated fishing vessel which had run into the midst of Typhoon Harriet and her 120-mile winds.

Arkansans Are Interested in Cuban Events

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansans have a considerable interest in the way things are going in Cuba.

It stems from Arkansas' position as a big producer of long grain rice—a staple in demand in Cuba. Over the years Cuba has been given a generous portion of the U.S. sugar market at a price above the world market and in return has imported large quantities of U.S. rice, much of it from Arkansas fields.

Since Fidel Castro took over in Cuba and began making anti-U.S. statements, some members of Congress have suggested revising the sugar act to cut Cuba's share of the domestic sugar market. This would hurt the island's economy where it hurts.

But Rep. E. C. Gathings (D-Ark.) equates caution.

"Trade is a two way street," he said. "I don't think we are in a position to be making threats."

The apprehension of Arkansans is that if the United States should trim Cuba's share of the sugar market, Castro in reprisal might go elsewhere for his rice.

Such a development certainly would be felt in the Arkansas and Louisiana rice industry.

Since the sugar act is about to expire, Congress must take action this year — either extend it or repeal it.

Gathings is a high ranking Democratic member of the House Agriculture Committee and is convinced that the United States should trim Cuba's share of the sugar market, Castro in reprisal might go elsewhere for his rice.

tain to have to voice in whatever decision is made.

And if he has his way nothing drastic will be done.

Clyde Ellis, former congressman from northwest Arkansas and now general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Assn., recently spent 11 days in Russia studying its power program and other segments of the Soviet economy.

He is reporting his impressions and conclusions in a series of articles in the association's publication.

In his first article Ellis likened Russia to a giant half awake, half sleeping.

"The part that's awake is symbolized by the Sputniks, U.S. science, technology, industry," he said. "The part that's asleep is agriculture."

He said he found little modern mechanization on Russian farms and virtually no electric machinery that is common in the United States. There were a few old style electric milkers, he said, but no electric pumps for wells, no electric feed grinders, conveyors, brooders, cookers, heaters, irons, refrigerators, freezers washers and the like.

But, he warned, Russian Premier Khrushchev has vowed to pour whatever is necessary in the way of machinery and electricity into this weak link and in the end out-produce the United States.

An exhibit in Rep. Gathings' office is attracting much attention. In a spot where it can be seen not only by visitors but also by passers-by in the hall is a huge Arkansas cotton plant covered with big, white cotton bolls ready to be picked.

The plant was brought to Washington from Arkansas by Parker Westbrook, Gathings' secretary.

Many persons who never saw a cotton patch ask Gathings' aides what in the world the plant is. Just before Christmas some passers-by were heard to remark that it was a new fangled type of Christmas tree.

SECOND CREDO STAMP—Benjamin Franklin's words are inscribed on this second of the American "credo" stamps. It will be placed on sale in Philadelphia on March 23. It's one of a series of six.

passers-by in the hall is a huge Arkansas cotton plant covered with big, white cotton bolls ready to be picked.

The plant was brought to Washington from Arkansas by Parker Westbrook, Gathings' secretary.

Many persons who never saw a cotton patch ask Gathings' aides what in the world the plant is. Just before Christmas some passers-by were heard to remark that it was a new fangled type of Christmas tree.
